“Angela and I met at The Potter’s House in Dallas over 28 years ago. We both served in the children’s ministry; our toddlers became fast friends. We both were on fire for the Lord!! We both had an insatiable appetite for the Word of God. We were at church more than we were home, most days. It was not unusual for us to attend church 3 times on Sunday, and again on Wednesday for Bible Study. Angela was ravenous for study, worship and revelation. She loved the Lord!!!

When it became apparent that our children were inseparable, I decided to care for David while Angela worked. It was a match made in heaven. Reygan and David were the brother and sister neither of them had but that they both needed. The stories about the two of them growing up are endless. Training them and loving them is one of the highlights of my life!!

The essence of who Angela is, is found in David. A year ago, we all met up for dinner. We laughed, ate and shared story after story, and David was quiet, observant and reflective and a gentleman. I am so appreciative of those moments.

She was and will always be that quintessential friend who’d give you the shirt off her back. Actually, she did give me a dress to wear to an interview once, and I nailed the interview and got the job. Haha!!! Angela Howard will forever be my big sister who I never knew I needed and cannot imagine doing life without.

You will be missed, but I have made more space in my heart and in my home for David. I love you friend and I’m going to really really miss you.

This morning I woke and thanked Him for His kindness towards me for allowing our paths to cross. Because of Him, I can say, I’ll see you again one day.

“  In Loving Memory of a Beautiful Friend  ”

It is with a heavy heart that I take a moment to honor the memory of my dear friend, who left us far too soon. A week has passed since the world dimmed with her absence, and the void she has left is felt deeply by all who had the privilege of knowing her.

She was a brilliant entrepreneur, a true expert in her field, an established CPA and Licensed Realtor to name a few, whose intellect and passion inspired everyone around her. Her kindness knew no bounds; she had a remarkable ability to uplift others without judgment or messiness, always offering a listening ear and thoughtful advice. Whether we were sharing insights on motherhood back in our Dallas days or fast forward to now 28 years later, diving into enriching discussions about trending technology topics like AI or data her wisdom was a guiding light in my life.

Her strength and independence were a testament to her character. She tirelessly strived to create the best life for herself and her beloved son, David. It was her adventurous spirit that made our shared moments in the vibrant streets of New York City so unforgettable—celebrating our birthdays together in May, filled with laughter and joy amidst the hustle of life.

Cancer is a cruel thief, robbing us of a shining star far too soon. It is not fair that someone so vibrant and full of life has been taken from us. But in our grief, we must also celebrate the incredible legacy she leaves behind—a legacy of kindness, strength, and unwavering love.

To my dear friend, thank you for being a true friend, a source of inspiration, and a part of my journey. You will be missed beyond words, but your spirit will forever remain in our hearts. May you find peace, and may we honor your memory by living our lives with the same courage and compassion that you embodied so beautifully.

To her loving family, son, parents, sister and brothers, she loved each and every one of you, dearly. Thank you, Patrick for introducing us 28 years ago and sharing your sister with me.

This was on my heart and, so I let my thoughts and creativity flow and wanted to share.

Rest in peace, dear friend. You are loved and remembered always.

Prayers for the Howard family... Sis. Angela was indeed Special as with the entire Howard family... My mind goes back 45 years ago to the First Born Church of the Living God National Sunday School Convention

In Way Cross, GA, , at that time Angie's father, Supt. A. Howard led the convention, which included the development of an Album "Behold the Fields" featuring Douglas Miller...I met Angie and her family at that time... Became a good friend of her brother Vernon... Angie was indeed part of a family of Greatness... RIP my Sister
