“ In the heart of our memories, there stands a pillar of strength and camaraderie. Our sandbox brother left an indelible mark on our lives. His unwavering loyalty forged bonds that time cannot erase. In the tapestry of our shared history, he remains a vivid thread—a symbol of resilience and friendship. Though he may have departed this world the echoes of his spirit continue to resonate, reminding us that the essence of a true friend transcends the boundaries of time and space.

May the comforting arms of solace embrace Sike's family and friends offering strength in the face of sorrow. In this very difficult time, may love and cherished memories be a source of healing.

May his legacy be a beacon of light guiding us through the darkness. Until next time. Rest in Power Brother.
