“ I just want to say that it has been one of the greatest honors of my life to be there as Johnny was dealing with his final days. He was a great friend of mine and we loved each other as brothers and friends, Always. This whole world seems a bit sadder and lonely with his passing. I guess that my eyes haven't found the tears for him because I knew he would not want me to cry for him. If they do fall from my eyes ,,, it will be the joy of knowing that I was loved by and loved this Great Man of God. Because of his life,,, I had and have a friend that will warm my heart and help me remember to not take my disappointments so seriously and my failures as permanent. God Blessed my life with a talented wonderful friend. Our loss is actually his arrival in Heaven and his greatest Joy.

“ From my earlier Facebook post to you:

Daddy,

I will miss you so very much. I will miss our long talks about any and EVERY thing under the sun. I will miss your kind words and encouraging ways. You made me feel like I could do anything. No matter how old I get, you have always made me feel like your little girl. So much wisdom, so much care you gave. In times such as this, it's hard to know what to do next. We shared many late night talks and cups of coffee. You called me every single morning that I was in Nursing School to encourage me and tell me that I could do it. When I was so worried about passing my Math class, you told me "Take it one step at a time from the beginning , follow instructions and build from that and you will have a solid foundation." I made an A in that class thanks to my daddy. You were always so kind to everyone. You are an educator even until your last breath. You taught me to be thankful and how to have a loving heart. I will miss you so much daddy. I know that you're in a better place right now. I know that you are not suffering anymore. I thank the Lord that he gave you to me. I miss you already. But, I know that you don't have to hurt anymore. You don't have to cry or be disappointed or hurt anymore.

...you were there when I was born and I was there to see you leave....

R.I.P Daddy

Love Always,

“ Granddaddy,

I love you so much. You were an awesome granddad. You were always so supportive to me and my mommy. I remember when we all lived together on the farm in Franklin and I enjoyed each morning walking down the path to the bus stop. You would talk to me and always say "Have a good day grandbaby!" I will miss you granddaddy, but I know that you are not sick anymore and you are in a better place now.

*Love Always,
Grandbaby Mikayla*

“ I have fond memories of Johnny from our years at Wilson County High. So thankful that we reconnected the past few weeks and God allowed us to share love for one another.
Borrowing the words of Thomas Campbell--"To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."
